Miss Clipper's Anecdotes, Personalities and Comments,

CONCERNING STAGE FOLK and Sometimes OTHERS

. BY JOSEPHINE GRO.

Marion Bent, the clever little singer and dancer, of the Rooney and Bent skit, billed as "The Busy Bell Boy," has a number of effectively pretty dress changes for her act, wearing two different ones at each perform-ance—a street costume and a house gown and changing them each day of her week's engagement. Her dresses are simple in design and trimming, but rich in texture and always new in style.

At Hammerstein's, recently, she made her entrance in a crepe de chine dress of ingenue length, and of a medium golden-brown shade. The skirt is trimmed with three rows of biascut taffeta silk of graduated widths. The high necked bodice is of the short waisted Empire design, with a broad girdle of brown taffeta. Folds of the same are brought over the shoulders, surplice style, extending to the front of the girdle. Delicate gold passementerie is laid over these folds, which are outlined with a piping of apple-green silk, the contrasting note of the costume. The elbow sleeves are also trimmed with the passementerie and green cordings. Wherever buttons can be used on the bodice they appear in the same shade of green, with simulated buttonholes of green cord.

Miss Bent's hat for this costume is of brown lace, neatly ornamented with handsome feather tips of the same shade. With it she wears for a few minutes a pretty short coat of brown lace.

The little singer always wears black silk hose of cobweb texture, through which the pink of her skin may be seen, and tied low shoes—certainly small child's size—of black patent leather, with Cuban heels. Plenty of white chiffon, under flouncings, are displayed in the very graceful work with her dancing partner, Pat Rooney, the exceedingly clever son of his famous father.

In the second part of their act Miss Bent appears in a baby blue chiffon dress, made with a very full skirt. This is shirred from about six inches below the waist line to three above, giving the Princess gown effect, with the short waisted Empire back. The bodice is V-necked and short sleeved, with a guimpe and sleeves of white lace. These are trimmed with the tiniest of blue chiffon rosettes, having centres of rhinestones. The girdle is of blue taffeta, the short ends of which are edged with six-inch blue fringe.

The skirt is trimmed with a broad band white chrysanthemum patterned lace, edged on each side with a band of blue taffeta. The flowers in the lace are outlined with tiny opalescent spangles.

The first of a second pair of costumes worn an ankle-length Princess model, has a costume, covered with silk to match ittwo rows down the back and the same number decorating the front of it. There of colors. are twenty-five buttons on each sleeve, the shape of which is the prevalent kimono cut. Half a dozen tiny bows decorate the front of the lace yoke, which is defined from the rest of the bodice by a narrow shirring of blue silk. The skirt is very full and plain, with a series of point d'esprit lace underskirts to fill and hold it out.

With this Miss Bent makes her entrance in a large white chip hat, trimmed with a forty-inch white willow plume. Besides this ornament which the ostrich furnishes, the little comedienne also employs the plumage of another bird in the shape of a long white marabout boa extending to the hem of her

The very full skirt is trimmed with three rows of taffeta, same shade, and about two and a half inches broad. These are outlined on both sides with a tiny piping of black panne velvet. rhinestone ornaments. Under this filmy dress Miss Bent wears

For jewels, Miss Bent wears a lot of fine gems, as her nimble-footed young husband, Pat Rooney, takes great pride in providing himself and wife with jewels of the purest and best. The provident young pair have a tidy sum already tied up in diamonds, costly brown ones being the fad of the masculine member of the team.

A laughable bit of business was accidentally interpolated, the other night, in "The Modest Little Model," a rather sensational song which is sung by Richard Carle, in "Mary's Lamb," now playing the New York Theatre.

The illustrative feature of the song occurs seven chiffon silk dancing skirts—the effect of these, and thin black silk covered limbs in the gyrations of the skirt dance, may easily be imagined.

The Hunstrative leature of the soin occurs at the end of each verse, when all lights are put out and a sheet of white muslin is lowered at the back of the stage and on this a powerful light shines from behind. Apropos of the model suggestion, four young women of especially fine lines, who were previously shrouded in kimonos, appear silhouetted on the sheet, but without the kimonos-in fact, perilously close to "nature's garb."

On this occasion a stage hand, new on the job, got between the light and the screen simultaneously with the "models." The laugh from the audience can well be imagined. A

A. H. Woods' Plans for 1908-1909.

A. H. Woods' plans for next season seem to be on as broad a scale as heretofore, notwithstanding the prevailing impression that the general public do not want melodrama. Mr. Woods has gone over the matter very thoroughly, and attributes the "siump" in popular price business, not for the reason that the people do not desire that form of entertainment, but solely for the reason that the people who frequent melodramatic theatres were the first to suffer the effects of the panic of last October, and as soon as factories start up again, they will flock to melodrama as they did before. Mr. Woods will place no less than fourteen attractions on tour next season, the first of which, "The Creole Slave's Revenge," will start rehearsals July 15, opening at the Bijou Theatre, Pittsburg, Aug. 1. Then in quick succession the following productions will be launched: "Convict 999" (last season Mr. Woods' biggest melodramatic success), opening in Washington, Aug. 3; "On Trial for His Life," opening at Hoboken, Aug. 8; "The Gambler of the West" (third season), opening at Pater-

Benefit for a Worthy Charity.

Benefit for a Worthy Charity.

The theatre folk will have their own "Olympic games" at the Polo Grounds, on the afternoon of Friday, July 17, at the annual field day benefit for the Home for Destitute Crippied Children. This noble institution, at No. 41 West Sixty-first Street, founded and presided over by Mrs. A. L. Erlanger, is the pet charity of the theatrical profession, which has raised many thousands of dollars in its behalf through outdoor games in the Summer and indoor benefits in Winter.

The coming field day, under the patronage of the leading managers of the country, is expected to outdo all its predecessors in the inferest and variety of its amusing, and probably hilarious, programme. There will be a baseball game between the prima donnas on one side and soubrettes on the other; the managers will play against the actors; "squabs" will be pitted against "brollers" on the cinder path, and first old men will contest with heavy villatus over the jumps. A. L. Erlanger and Hollis E. Cooley will sprint a hundred yards.

A big card of exciting events is being arranged in which the entrants are agents, treasurers, house managers, producers, il-brettists, composers, interpolators, actors, actresses, ingenues, "squabs," "brollers," choristers and show girls. George M. Cohan and S. H. Harris, who have charge of the arrangements, will keep things going at a carnival pitch. Joe Humphreys will be master of ceremonies.

The Home for Destitute Crippled Children is ron-sectarian, has no paid officers, has no endowments and receives no State or city aid. It is the most unselfish of charities—it alds suffering childhood, hence the willingness of stage celebrities to do "stunts" for its benefit that no other consideration would bring forth.

Henry W. Savage Secures "The Cloven Foot."

"The Cloven Foot" ("Der Teufel"), a play, by Franz Molnar, a Hungarian dramatist, has passed into the control of Henry W. Savage, and Edwin Stevens has been engaged by him to play the leading character of the Devil.

Oliver Herford has adapted the play for the American stage, and so daring is the plece in theme that Mr. Savage has induced him to write three separate endings, in the hope that one of them will be acceptable to our playgoers. He has arranged with Hunter, Bradford & Reid to present the plece at Parson's Theatre, Hartford, the week of July 6.

Parson's Theatre, Hartford, the week of July 6.

"The Cloven Foot," under the title of "Der Teufel," was produced on Feb. 15, 1908, at the Deutsches Volkstheatre, in Vlenna, the same city which gave birth to "The Merry Widow," and immediately achieved a dramatic success equal to the operatic sensation which marked the opening of the charming Vlennese operetta.

The leading character of the piece, as indicated by its title, is the Devil, who appears incarnated as a man of the world, with cold, hellish ingenuity, plotting the ruin of a famous artist and the wife of a millionaire. He typifies in human form the spirit of temptation.

"Prince Humbug," With Frank Lalor as Star.

Frank Lalor is to make his debut as a star under the management of Samuel E. Rork in "Prince Humbug," a new musical comedy, the libretto of which is by Mark Swan, and the score by Karl Hoschan. Frank Smithson will have charge of the production.

The plece will be put on at the Park Theatre, Boston, Mass., on Labor Day.

Louis Mann Releases "The Girl in the Barracks."

Barracks."

Louis Mann, now in Berlin, last week cabled his release of the American rights in English of the German farce, "The Girl in the Barracks," in which he and Clara Lipman appeared. This action was taken in order that Luiu Glaser might appear next season in a musical version of the comedy, which will be produced under the title of "The Girl Who Dared."

Dustin Farnum to Star in "The Squaw Man."

By arrangement with Charles Frohman, Messrs. Liebler & Co. have secured the services of Dustin Farnum for the ensuing season, to be starred in a tour of "The Squaw Man." which will open early in September, in Chicago, for a brief engagement, this engagement to be followed by a tour of the middle and farther West. Mr. Farnum will be given a special production, and a strong supporting cast.

Hitchcock Injunction Modified.

Hitchcock Injunction Modified.
Judge Ward, of the United States Circuit Court, at the request of Judge Holt, of the District Court, has modified the Henry W. Savage injunction against Raymond Hitchcock, so that Hitchcock can keep on playing at the Circle Theatre until the matter comes up for argument. Hitchcock, it is reported, has filed a bond in $10,000 to secure Mr. Savage from any damages, and has also stipulated to carry out any engagement Mr. Savage has made for him to play in London in August.

Woods' productions, having been on Mr. Woods' business staff for the past five years, will be business manager for Burt, Nicolai & Nixon's latest offering, "Molly Bawn," a dramatization by Beulah Poynter, author of "Lena Rivers."

The feminine portion of the profession are all exchanging observations on the corset question, that being one of the utmost im-portance in their stage appearance and physical comfort. Up to the recent past the shape and durability of these indispensables have been maintained by the use of whale-bones and steels, which bend either backwards or forwards. There has come into use a substitute for these by way of an article called "spirabone," which bends in all directions, yielding easily to the muscles used in the act of breathing, as well as to all other motions of the body. This is appreciated by the actress who, when girt up with stiff whalebones, feels that in her posings she is losing something of her gracefulness. La Resista corsets, which are made exclusively with spirabone, the natural grace and freedom of the torso is not restricted, and at the same time comfort, beautiful curves and lasting qualities are sustained—three million pairs of these articles of wardrobe are of heavy white lace of a rose design, lined with white chiffon. 'There's a man in the Garden of Eden. "No," replied Carle, who quickly caught on to the situation, "it's only the janitor cleaning the statuary."

"King-Maker" Produced in 'Frisco.

At the Princess Theatre, in San Francisco, Cal., on Monday evening, June 22, Mr. Meyerfield Jr., president of the Orpheum Circuit Co., produced a new comic opera called "The King-Maker," which was written by Waldemar Young, one of the best known dramatic writers on the coast, in collaboration with W. C. Patterson and Race Whitney, and with a musical setting by R. H. Bassett. In the cast are: William Burress, Belle Thorne, Arthur Cunningham, Sarah Edwards, Myrtle Dingwall and Hazel Aubrey, and, judging from all accounts, the new offering has made a big success.

It is said to be altogether likely that upon the return of Martin Beck from Europe, later in the Summer, that "The King-Maker" may be brought East for a hearing, with an engagement at the Chicago Opera House, in Chicago, preceding its New York debut. "King-Maker" Produced in 'Frisco.

Mr. Brady imported the paraphernalia under bond last August, and renewed the bond at the end of six months. Wilton Lackaye, who has been starring in the play, has closed his tour in it, and will not again present the play. Mr. Brady plans to send "The Bondman" on tour again with another actor in the role of Jason.

Worthing Will Not Play "Two Pins." Frank Worthing, who went to England to see Oscar Asche's production of Frank Stayton's play, "Two Pins." has written to Wm. A. Brady that he does not regard the play as suitable for his own use, and has accordingly surrendered his option.

Eureka, Cal., Has Improved Transit Facilities.

In a recent interview, C. A. Long, traffic manager for the Overland Company, stated: "I wish emphatically to deny the report that the roads on our automobile stage line between Sherwood, Mendocino County, and Eureka, Humboldt County, are in poor condition." He stated further that the roads were being kept in good shape at the expense of the company. "You know the two counties built the roads by subscription, but we have taken it upon ourselves to hire a man, and with four horses and a scraper he is making trips over the route continually." According to those who have taken the trip, it is now a pleasure to ride from Sherwood to Eureka. The autos travel through Cummins, Slinor, Alton and Fortuna, and t. view the scenery alone one is well repaid for the journey. The cars have to ascend to a height of about 5,000 feet when they reach Bell Springs Mountain. There are good hotels along the route, and the company has left nothing undone that would add to the comfort of its passengers.

Players' Stock Co. Closes Suddenly.

The Players' Stock Co., which has been presenting repertory for the last five weeks at the West End Theatre, at One Hundred and Twenty-fifth Street and Elghth Avenue, New York City, ended its season suddenly after the performance last Wednesday night, June 24.

Marie Shotwell, the lending lady, refused to play on Wednesday unless money which she claimed was due her was paid, and Kay Beverldge, who was appearing in a minor part in "Divorcons," stepped in at a moment's notice and played Miss Shotwell's character that day. But on Thursday it was decided to close the company.

The Players' Stock Co. was under the management of Harry L. Franklin and Barry O'Neill, and the leading roles were played by Marie Shotwell and Thurston Hall.

During the five weeks the organization was in existence it presented at the West End Theatre "Brown of Harvard," "The Girl With the Green Eyes," "Heartsease" and "The Walls of Jericho," besides "Divorcons," the plece played when the end came.

Fanny Rice to Star.

Fanny Rice, more often referred to as "Jolly Fanny Rice," has chosen to go back to her first love, musical comedy, and become a star, instead of continuing in vaudeville.

The Norcross Amusement Co., of which Frank M. Norcross is the manager, has signed a contract with Miss Rice to star her in a musical comedy, and "At the French Rail" has been rewritten, with new numbers and up-to-date dialogue. A number of musical people have been engaged, and with a new scenic production and a handsome display of costumes, along with Miss Rice's "Marionettes," it is thought she will have a good vehicle for success. The opening dates will be through the South and a coast trip.

PRESS AGENT MARIE V. FITZGERALD PLEASANTLY SURPRISED.

It is supposed to be a very difficult matter to surprise a press agent, yet this did happen to Marie V. FitzGeraid, night of June 27, in her office at the Colonial Theatre, and when a committee waited on her and presented her with a heavy gold bracelet, with five dlamonds artistically set therein, she was completely nonplussed.

Engraved on the bracelet were these words: "To Marie V. FitzGerald, A Real Good Fellow, from the Boys of P. G. Williams' Circuit." The bracelet was presented by George McCurdy. Other members of the committee were: James Peppard, Fred Bonitz, Billy Rodenbach, Evan Thomas and Harry Holmes.

Holmes.

An informal supper was then served in Miss FitzGerald's offices, the Alhambra and the Orpheum Theatres being represented, while the Colonial Theatre staff was there in full force. A new title was bestowed upon Miss FitzGerald, for, in addition to being a general press representative, she was voted "A Real Good Fellow."

A social function Saturday night, June 20, marked the close of the 1907-08 season at the Family Theatre, Williamsport, Pa. Fred M Lamade, proprietor of the Lycoming Opera House and the Family Theatre, was host, and on the stage of the Family Theatre, which had been transformed into a beautiful dining room, entertained the staffs and employees of the Family Theatre and the Opera House, and the company which played at the theatre the previous week. Over sixty persons all of whom were regurar employees of Mr. Lamade's two entertainment houses, except the vaudeville performers and two or three others, were guests. A flashlight picture of the assemblage was taken, and then the feast was discussed, after which Louis J. Bradley, press agent of the theatres, and toastmaster of the evening, called upon the host to address his guests. Mr. Lamade responded very happily. Among others who were called upon was Clay Smith, who for himself and the Milnot Sisters in particular, and all performers who have appeared at the houses owned by Mr. Lamade, gave expression to warm admiration of the manner in which the theatre managers and the people at large of the city met and treated players who went to Williamsport. C. A. Davis, the planist at the Family; Walter Lamade and others were called upon and responded.

PROF. PETER J. RIDGE.

For many years Prof. Ridge has conducted a school for the stage and for dancing, located at 127 La Salle Street, Chicago, within half a block of the City Hall, the school being up-to-date in every particular, and occupying two whole floors. Everything which it is necessary to acquire to fit one for a theatrical career is taught by the professor and his fine staff, the terms ranging from $5 to $150 and up, according to the class and amount of work required. The school is endorsed by all the leading theatrical papers, as well as many of the prominent business men of Chicago.

Prof. Ridge pays personal attention to the criticising of pupils, and is always on hand for consultation. The Great Western Stage School and Theatrical Agency is noted for its cleanliness and freedom from anything bordering on the objectionable, and the location is exceptionally central. Pupils who have falled to qualify in other schools are invited to attend here, and as honest dealing and no misrepresentation enter into Prof. Ridge's methods, the pupils generally are greatly benefited, if they have any ability at all. He was the originator of flat-foot buck dancing, as well as other professional work of merit, and he also guarantees to teach all kinds of plain and fancy dancing, and bring out whatever latent dramatic or vocal talent a person may possess.

From Santiago we went to Colon, Panama, via Jamaica, and at Jamaica our vessel was held three days in a vile, ill smelling place called quarantine, after which we arrived safe, but scared, at Colon, and there we experienced our second disagreeable affair. It seems we arrived at Colon with the rainy season, and this, coupled with the swamps, low altitude and the awful heat, ruined about all our costumes, rusted some of the more delicate of the magical apparatus, and ruined the spangles on our dresses.

Almost everything in our trunks became mildewed, and regardless of the pecuniary loss, caused us great inconvenience.

Become an Enthusiastic Aeronaut.

Cable information and letters from Europe convey the news that Martin Beck, the popular general manager of the Orpheum circuit, who is at present touring Germany, France, Austria and the continent in his racing motor, has become an enthusiastic aeronaut, and that he is likely to figure prominently in the development of aerial travel in America in the future.

He has become greatly interested in the new airship constructed by Count Zeppelin, and has placed an order for a duplicate of his machine to be delivered in America Sept. 1. This is the new airship with the improved side-steering gear, and Mr. Beck was the count's guest when he made his ascent from Friedrichshafen on June 22. This test lasted a little over two hours, during which time the most difficult manceuvres were carried out without a hitch. The great airship first circled around the town of Friedrichshafen several times. It then departed at full speed toward Langargen where it crossed to the Swiss side of Lake Constance, against a light breeze.

Swiss side of Lake Constance, against a light breeze.

Proceeding back across the lake to Lindau, the count undertook, at a height of from three hundred to six hundred feet above the surface of the water, a series of manœuvres, including sinking and rising, turning and stopping, thoroughly testing the new arrangement of both ascentional and side-steering apparatus, which seemingly worked in a most satisfactory manner. The facility with which a change of direction of the enormous mass in midair was accomplished deeply impressed the spectators.

The first trial ascent of Count Zeppelin's airship was from Munchen to Salzburg, and of this voyage Mr. Beck wrote C. E. Bray, Mark A. Luescher, Frank Vincent and other lieutenants here in New York, reporting a most remarkable and glorious experience. In a letter to Mr. Luescher he writes: "I took my first balloon trip yesterday and it was delightful. Have ordered one for Fall delivery in America. Have always thought nothing could approach automobiling for good sport, but that isn't in it with aerial navigation."

It is announced that Mr. Beck will return to this country about Aug. 1.

Mile. Adgle Returns.

Mile. Adgie has returned from her successful trip of the Western circuits with her lions. She has received the MSS of her new play by Chas. A. Taylor, entitled "The Queen of the Jungle." The play has been specially written around Adgie and the lions, and the dramatic portion of the play, coupled with the strong vaudeville section, promises to make the production a success.

Jack E. Magee Improving.

Jack E. Magee, of Murphy and Magee, is a patient at St. Joseph's Hospital, Mt. Clemens, Mich., and writes This CLIPPER that he would be pleased to hear from any friends. He has undergone a serious surgical operation, and no financial assistance is required, but letters would be welcome with pleasure. The team has signed with Maury Krause for next season.

BOWERS, WALTERS AND CROOKER, ("The Three Rubes"), are endorsed by managers, press and public as one of the funniest comedy acts on the vaudeville stage to-day. Their exit at the finish of their act is original and a big laugh provoker. They are booked solid for season 1908-09. Al. Sutherland is their agent.

UP TO DATE DRESS TALK.

Satin the Fabric Par Excellence of the Season - Evening Frocks for Hot Weather-Gradual Changes in Coifure Modes - New Waterproof Silks Put to Various Uses.

BY GENE DE PONTAC.

Note.—These articles are published by an arrangement with R. H. Macy & Co., whereby they will not appear in any other theatrical

It is emphatically a satin season, and the long used taffeta is temporarily in eclipse, but the satin of to-day is so soft and supple and light in weight that it is not as incongruous for Summer wear as it sounds. Costumes and evening cloaks are made wholly of satin, or voile and chiffon are bordered, finished and piped with satin; collars and cuffs are faced with satin, and buttons are covered with it; girdles, stocks, ruffs and even petticoats are made of satin, while many of the soft silks masquerade under a satin face. In medium shades-blue, rose, dull green or brown-it is suitable for afternoon gowns, made on rather plain lines, oftentimes with tunics, and finished with silk or soutache embroidery. Satin is also liked for Summer evening or dinner gowns, as withstanding dampness better than the filmier mousselines and gauzes.

Both tulle and gauze, however, are to be popular for Summer evening gowns, and spangled and embroidered nets are also charming in their lightness and daintiness. Black and white combined are more liked than either of the two alone, and the black nets are usually lined with white. Bands of satin or taffeta or varying widths of velvet ribbon form the finish of the skirt, and the white gowns are exceedingly effective when made over an interlining of pale tinted chiffon. The new tunics offer good opportunity for the use of spangled borders, and a pretty fashion that was popular some years ago has been revived—that of having the spangles on an interlining of net instead of on the outside material, through which they merely shimmer elusively. Fetching little dancing frocks for hot nights are made of cotton net, entirely unlined and worn over a silk slip, and finished with narrow frills of lace and a high-waisted girdle of soft satin or mousseline.

Hair ornaments are again becoming popular—all kinds of interwoven ribbon effects being appropriate to the "Recamier" hair dressing. There are combs in the shops through which ribbons may be run in fillet fashion, and these make the elaborate Empire coiffure comparatively easy of accomplishment. A Paris idea is to have the colored hair-bow show just a little beneath the brim of the hat, following up some color note of the costume. Butterflies in colored spangles, gold or jet are used on evening coiffures, and the Greek influence is seen in the circlets of gold or tortoise-shell which Parisiennes affect.

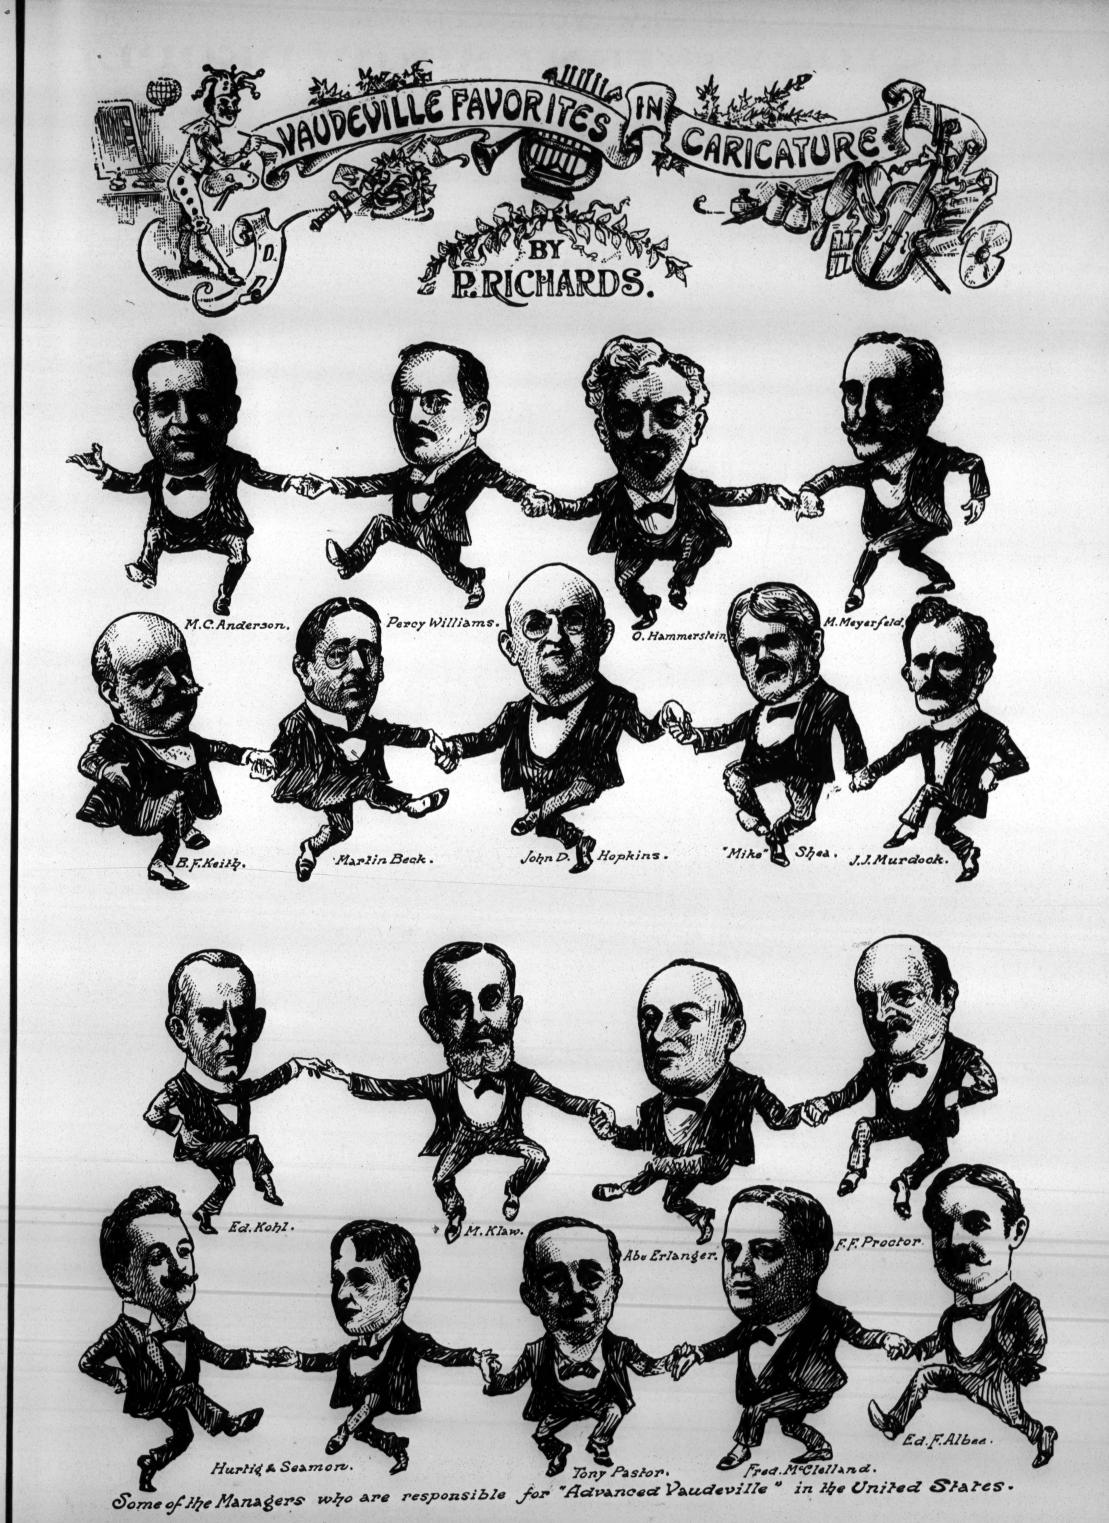

The round, stiff pompadour is really going out, although the hair is still built out widely at the sides. On the top the hair is either drawn softly back and slightly rolled or parted; the long line is now from the chignon to the nose and from side to sidenot from the top of the head to the chia. The fashionable hat needs something to fill out the angle between brim and head, and a low or half low colffure is the preferred mode, filled in with soft puffs, curls and braids, posed to give the best outline. stiff rows of puffs lying side by side in obvious falseness, are entirely demode.

Waterproof silk in gay colors is now much used to form parasol and umbrella in one—a most convenient arrangement in this fickle climate. One parasol handle and frame are now also made to serve for several covers. which allows a wide range for matching of different costumes. This waterproof silk is also much used for making coats for travel-ing and motoring. Another new silk has just been prepared which is intended for use in bathing suits, and is called "saltwaterproof." It is not, however, intended to keep the bather from getting wet, but only safeguard the bathing suit material against the rotting and color changing, which is the effect of saltwater upon nearly all the silk hitherto available.

The English Performer and the "Chooser."

"Chooser."

A committee of the Variety Artists' Association, of London, England, has been formed, with the object of trying to get an act through parliament for the suppression of the "Chooser." This, as the federation admits, is a large order. There are "the theft of single ideas or gags, the adoption of whole acts, the purlothing of songs and business, the unsanctioned 'imitation' of performers by other performers, who may or may not be capable of effective imitation; the reproduction of songs or scenes, words or pantomine, or both, by mechanical means, and a whole list of other dishonorable tricks."

Mme. Louise and her trained monkeys will sail from Europe next week, and will open July 20, at the Brighton Beach Music Hall, with two weeks to follow at Hammerstein's, New York. She has also been booked for the Pantages circuit by Richard Pitrot.

To Summer in Germany. Otto Ernest Schmid, director of Cincin-nati's German Theatre Co., has gone to Ger-many, after new players and plays,

A Clance at Acts New to the Metropolis.

The Two Georgis.

The Two Georgis.

Two European eccentriques, a vaudeville noveity act known as the Two Georgis, having met with success in the West, made their local debut at the Brighton Beach Music Hall last week, and presented an offering that was in every way a winner.

The man and the woman comprising the team are finished performers in their line, the former introducing some knockabout work that is first class and very funny. He has the clowning down to an art, and is far and away ahead of the usual run of foreign performers in his line of endeavor.

His partner has plenty of animation, and her various songs are delivered with good effect.

Richard Pitrot brought this team from the other side, and the good judgment this well known globe trotting agent usually shows in his selection of acts has not failed him in this instance. The act ran about fifteen minutes, on the full stage.

Fred St. Onge and Company.

Fred St. Onge and Company.

Fred St. Onge showed his latest in comedy bicycle conceptions at Henderson's last week, and as there is plenty of snap and go to it, and a number of stirring tricks, the success won by the offering was second to none on the bill.

Henderson's stage is an ideal one for this sort of an act, because the audiences seem to take particularly to riding and acrobatic offerings. The St. Onge company has its work down to a nicety, and there are no hitches in the rapidly introduced series of feats.

Mr. St. Onge's assistants are capital riders, and their work is a fine setting for his own break-neck and thrilling performance, which creates unbounded enthusiasm. He has arranged the entire act in such a manner that it literally spins along, and surprise follows surprise in quick succession. It ran about twenty minutes last week, using the full stage.

Cleo Desmond.

Cleo Desmond, at Henderson's last week, sang several pretty musical numbers, and made a good impression by her appearance and voice.

Her first song. "If I Had a Thousand Lives to Live, I'd Live Them All for You," was away from the ordinary, and the audience !!ked it. Her second number was "It's Hard to Love Somebody, When Somebody Don't Love You," and her concluding song was in lighter vein, "I'd Like to See You Get Along." She occupied the stage about twelve minutes, in one.

Long Acre Quartette.

Long Acre Quartette.

The young men who appeared at Henderson's last week under the title of the Long Acre Quartette work as though they were old timers, and they know how to get results from their efforts.

All are good singers, and their various solos and quartette numbers were rendered very effectively. The quartette made a neat appearance in evening dress, and their vocal work earned them the favor they were accorded. The act ran about fourteen minutes, in one.

Lambs' "Washing" Frolic.

"Her Father's Honor" Produced.

M. M. Theise's Attractions.

M. M. Thelse announces the following at-

Rosella Rhodes and C. J. Vion Marry.

"Rip Van Winkle" in Open Air.

George Ober and his company presented "Rip Van Winkle" in the open air at Hiver View Manor, Hastings-on-the-Hudson, N. Y., June 26, 27, for the benefit of the Dobbs Ferry Hospital. The fact that the performance was given within a stone's throw of the place where Washington Irving wrote the story added to the interest.

The 1908 Rollickers.

The following have been re-engaged for the Rollickers (Western wheel) for next season: Violet Pearl, Katherine Pearl, Lillie Cohen, Alfred Hale, Will H. Cohn and twenty chorus girls, with a pony ballet of eight. Dick Patten will act as manager.

Edwards to Star Morton.

Gus Edwards closed a contract with James J Morton, to star nim next season, in a musical comedy, written around the "boy comic." Vincent Bryan will write the lyrics, and Gus Edwards the music. A well known author will write the book.

Louise Dresser.

Louise Dresser.

Louise Dresser, one of the most refined and charming vocalists before the public, made her re-entry lato vaudeville last week, appearing at the Colonial.

Miss Dresser always makes a pretty picture, and invariably gets a great deal out of her songs. Her results last week were most gratifying, and she was compelled to sing four songs before concluding her offering.

Her first was "The Minstrel Show," which was nicely sung, and the second selection was nicely sung, and the second selection was feety sung, and the second selection was George M. Cohan's song, "I'm Strong for You," which is one of the successes of "The Yankee Prince." "I Want to Be Loved Like the Leading Lady" was another effective number, well rendered, and as a finish "My Gal Sal" proved the best of the lot, The act ran about fifteen minutes, in one.

Montgomery and Moore.

Montgomery and Moore, at the Colonial last week, made one of the hits of the bill. Their appearance at the Allambra the preceding week was the first they had played New York in some time, and the act has much new material.

Mr. Montgomery's song, "Jennle," is sung by Miss Moore with Eddle Leonard "trimmings," and it goes like wilddre. Miss Moore's methods are agreeable and funny, and the piano playing of Mr. Montgomery is capital.

There is no lagging in the action while this capital.

There is no lagging in the action while this team is on view, and their encores last week were many and hearty. Their finish went particularly well. They occupied the stage about twenty-five minutes, in two.

Nonette.

A young and pretty performer is Nonette, a violinist and vocalist, who graced the bill at Henderson's last week, making a hit in high class playing.

She appeared in Gypsy costume, and made her entrance playing and singing a few bars of Mendelssohn's "Spring Song." Passing to straight violin playing, she immediately impressed her audience with the excellence of her work, and in response to hearty applause, sang and accompanied herself on her violin. Her playing of patriotic airs made a good finish. Her voice is musical and well trained, and the act is one that is worthy of time on the big circuits. It ran about twelve minutes, in one.

The Four Hodges.

The Four Hodges.

The Four Hodges (a man and three women) presented an excellent musical act at Henderson's last week, playing on several instruments with spirit and finish, and looking natty in white military uniforms.

Their cornet playing brought forth warm approval, and their stirring rendering of fast time melodles on xylophones was also a big feature of the act.

They finished with horns, and made a fine impression throughout, although it seemed that they could have strengthened the offering by holding their xylophone work for the inish. They occupied the full stage about fifteen minutes.

CANADA REMOVES SCENERY DUTY.

CANADA REMOUES SCENERY DUTY.

The Dominion Government has granted a concession that greatly concerns traveling theatrical companies. An arrangement has been made with the customs department of Canada whereby American attractions playing Canada will have their scenery admitted under the bonding regulation.

After July + mext theatrical scenery going into Canada will be admitted on the deposit of the amount of duty with the collector of customs at the port of entry, and on the certificate from the customs officers at the port of exit the deposit will be refunded.

Heretofore a company crossing into Canada has been obliged to pay duty upon fits equipment every time it crossed the boundary line. About a year ago there was organized the Canadian Theatre Managers' Association, of which A. J. Small was the president. A reform in the matter of customs was the primary object of the combination. Mr. Small last week notified Klaw & Erlanger that the Minister of Customs had seen things in a light favorable to American managers.

The notice effecting the change was issued to the form of a memorandum from the Department of Customs, Ottawa, Can., and was dated June 24. It was malled to all outports and stations, and was signed by John McDougald, Commissioner of Customs. It said:

"To Collectors of Customs:

"On and after July 1, 1908, theatrical exhibitions, and used by them in Canada for such exhibitions, and not for any other person or for sale, may be admitted, as in the case of the tourist outfit, upon deposit of the amount equal to the duty with the customs officer at the port of entry, subject to a refund of such deposit if the seenery be exported within six months." Lambs' "Washing" Frolic.

Members of the Lambs' Club went to Bayside, L. I. Sunday, June 27, where, at the residence of Clay M. Greene, they held their annual "washing."

Baseball games, swimming contests and a clambake were on the bill, and sixteen members presented a burlesque, entitled "As You Like It Not." The prologue and epilogue were delivered by Joseph R. Grismer. Frederick Truesdell played Orlando, "a recently suspended Lamb," and Charles Lame appeared as the banished duke. Hall McAllister appeared as Adam, "an old time Lamb;" Frank Nelson as Corrin, a shepherd, and Dodson Mitchell, as Touchstone, in "ex-shepherd." The others in the cast appeared in the roles of suspended Lambs. The burlescue was acted under the trees on the lawn of Mr. Greene's country home. "Her Father's Honor" Produced.

A delegation of New York City managers and newspaper men journeyed to Troy N. Y., June 24, to witness a performance of a four act melodrama, entitled "Her Father's Honor." It is from the pen of Robert Goodman, a former newspaper writer, and now a theatrical manager. The play, which was presented by the Edith Browning Stock Company, at the Lyceum Theatre, that city, made at marked impression, and it will have a production on Broadway next season. The play deals with newspaper life. The presentation of the play marked the closing of the stock company's engagement, after a most successful season.

M. M. These annothers the following actractions for season 1908-09:

"Wine, Woman and Seng," under the management of Max Armstrong, with the same cast as last season, and "Morning, Noon and Night," a musical comedy, hended by Artie Hall and Snitz Edwards. These two attractions will play over the Stair & Havlin circuit. Margaret Anglin Wins in Australia. Margaret Anglin made her Australian debut at Sydney, New South Wales, evening of June 27, and she won her audience from the start. The house was packed, and the play, "The Awakening of Helena Ritchle," won marked appreciation. Miss Anglin's fine acting won general commendation. cult.

The Rollickers and Strolling Players both play over the Empire circuit · Western wheel) with everything enlarged, special scenery and electrical eects.

A Special from Chicago. Chicago, June 29.—"The Lady from Lane's," at the Whitney, and the Cyclo-Homo, at the Colonial, closed suddenly Sun-day night, June 28. "The Invaders," at Mc-Vicker's, closes July 4.

May Buckley Married.

May Buckley and Chas. Walter Martin-Sobine, an actor, were married in Elitch's Garden, Denver, Colo., just after the last act of the play, night of June 27. The Kentons Return From the West.

The Keatons returned from the Pacific coast tour and are resting in New York. The Elks' Convention.

The ERKs' Convention.

This year's convention will be held at Dallas, Tex., July 13, 14, 15, 16. The New York contingent will leave New York July 4, by steamer, for New Orleans. A record gathering of the "Best People On Earth" is looked for by the citizens of the Texas city, who have made every effort possible to make the occasion a memorable one in the history of Elkdom.

Mayme Remington Rehearsing New Act.

Mayme Remington is reheating her new act, which will include a pretentious pickaninny minstrel troupe, for next season. Louis A. Weigand's Illnes

Louis A. Weigand, leader of Henck's Opera House orchestra, and director of the Eden Park concerts, Cheinnati, is recovering from an operation for appendicitis.

Henry Lee's Cyclo-Homo in Chicago.

Henry Lee was very fortunate that the the Colonial Theatre could not be got in readiness for the first performance of his new offering. "Cyclo-Homo." Monday, June 22, for the heat was something terrific, and the sudience which gathered 28 gave far better attention during the three hours and more which he held them there than they could possibly have done the preceding night.

Cyclo-Homo is a decided innovation in the realin of amusements, though formed of two old ideas, one of which Mr. Lee has made known to us through his years behind the vaudeville footlights. The other is the moving picture, which has been gradually usurping the field of vaudeville and dramatics for the past few months. Perhaps the offering may best be described as a "Burton Holmes lecture, with moving picture accompaniment." although Mr. Lee has methods which are criginal with himself.

Time will greatly improve the Cyclo-Homo, which is in the experimental stage, but Mr. Lee, a clever man, has struck upon a very clever idea, and will doubtless be imitated by countless numbers before the next senson is far advanced. He takes the auditor on a personally conducted tour of the world, introduces him to noted personages of everyctime and country (whom he impersonates himself), giving excerpts from celebrated sayings of theirs, or manufacturing speeches in the dialect which they might use it speaking in English, sil of which is very interesting and instructive, for no one knows better than Mr. Lee the peculiar characteristics of these people as they will appear to the public.

Applause was profuse during the long evening, and the pictures revealed, to the untraveled especially, hitherto unsuspected heauties of foreign lands and wen of our own. Mr. Lee is a clever talker, a natural humorist, and has a savoir faire which would carry him through a much more uninteresting entertainment than the pictures revealed, to the untraveled especially, hitherto unsuspected heauties of foreign lands and wen of our own. Mr. Lee is a clever talker, a natural humor

A comedy of errors, "At the French Bail" (Released June 30).—Mr. and Mrs. Williams, a young married couple, not entirely weaned of the freedom of single blessedness, are both, unknown to each other, obsessed with the irrepressible desire to attend the French Masquerade Ball. By a strange coincidence Williams appears as a Nun. At the ball they meet, and, owing to the cast of their characters, are, naturally, sympathetically attracted one by the other, and arrange to have a little supper after the ball is over. During the course of the evening they have each penetrated the other's disguise. Mrs. Williams hastens to the dressing-room, accompanied by her colored maid, whom she immediately invests with the Nun costume. Williams hustles Nelson to the men's room, changing costumes with him. The Friar and Nun again meet and the proposed supper is to be indulged in. In rush Mr. and Mrs. Williams from different entrances to witness the consternation of the masquerading couple, even unto their amazement. The picture ends interrogatingly—"Who is the joke on?"

"At the Crossroads of Life" (Released July 3).—The beroine of this story is the daughter of a staid New England minister, is brought up in absolute ignorance of the ways of the outside world, and when she gets the slightest inkling of its glamour, it makes a decided impression. Into her hands have fallen several theatrical newspapers, and she and her girl chum eagerly digest their contents, recounting in glowing terms what seems to be a golden existence. So wrought up were they that she immediately resoives to go on the stage, and so applies for a position in the chorus of a New York operacompany. Her rise in the profession is rapid, and while her artistic success is most agreeable, still she finds that all is not gold that gilters. Hence it is that she joyfully welcones the opportunity to return to the modest simple home of her dear old father. The story is a most touching one, well defined with many bits of comedy to lighten it, together with a "Student's Pranks: or, A Joke On His Parents."—Rube has been to high school for a year. He comes home to see his parents. Nobody sees him coming, and so he decides to play a joke on his old folks. Futting on whiskers he enters the house. The mother sees him first, and thinking he is a robber, calls the iceman to her aid. The iceman gets hold of the father instead of the son and throws him out of the house. After many more mixups between father, Iceman and son, the latter discloses his identity. An extremely funny subject. "Philadelphia, the Cradle of Liberty." * * Our film deplets historical scenes beginning with: 1. The Independence Hall where the Declaration of Independence was signed. 2. Where George Washington was inaugurated president of the United States. 3. The Betsy Ross House where the first American flag was made. 4. The grave of Benjamin Franklin. 5. Where the first American flag was made. 4. The grave of Benjamin Franklin. 5. Where the first Supreme Court of the United States was held. 7. Benedict Arnold, the traitor's home. 8. The United States Mint, the largest in American, 9. Scenes from Fairmount Park. We intend to place on the market, from time to time, interesting and historical American scenes, and are sure the public will appreciate these films.

"A Western Romance of the Days of '49."—Enacted by real Indians. Much favorable comment has been excited by the "Philadel-phia" film, as to its educational and patriotic tendencies.

Al. F. Wheeler's Tent Show Notes.

We entered, on June 27, our ninth week and have just finished a week of pleasure and profit. The big business being done by the "New Model" in all new territory speaks volumes for the thoroughness of the work accomplished by the advance, under the stillful guldance of General Agent F. J. Frink as much paper has been. Jut up as is usually displayed by the blg ones, but the return warranted the outlay.

Since the "New Model" opened there has been but one losing stand. It would have opened the eyes of some of the blg show managers to see the mob of people that flocked to the show grounds at Gowands. The Indians from the reservation, a mile from town, were all on hand, the squaws gally decked out in ribbons and gaudy calleos, and the big top was a mass of people to the ring bank. The weather is all that can be desired, and the roads in this section of Western New York State are in perfect condition. Wh. H. Austin, who came over here as boss hostler, from the Barnum & Bailey Show, closed 26, to go back to his first love. We had a terrific thunder and lightning storm at Saugerties, but no damage was done to the show, and the crowds escaped with only a severe wetting. Albert Gaston and Al. F. Wheeler Jr. are proving two merry jesters, and the opening number, the old fashloned clown song, is going big. Chef Berry is providing plenty of good things to ent and stands in pretty well with the bunch. The concert this season is going big and every act is a hit. It includes The Wheeler children, Al. F. and Leland, singers and dancers; Bell and Smith, laughable Dutch comedians with a new budget of fun; the Hamilton, trombones; John Spaulding, Fletcher Smith, altos: Wm. Palmatler, baritone; M. H. Rute, tuba; J. H. Gute, drums. The band at night is augmented by the addition of Al. F. Wheeler and Al. F. Wheeler Jr., cornets; Mrs. Hamilton, trombone: Wm. Trout and Albert Gaston, making fifteen pieces in the nightly concerts. The Concert has as a strong feature the triple tongue cornet solve by Al

Gollmar Bros.' Show in Wreck.

Notes from Gollmar Bros.' Shows.—While we were making the run from Jamestown, N. D., to Bismarck, our train ran into an empty engine at a small place called Medina. Both engines were totally wrecked and six stock cars of our train were smashed to pieces. The engineers and firemen on both trains jumped and saved their lives. The ten stock cars next to the engine were telescoped and eighteen horses were instantly killed. In the other cars six more were hurt and injured so that they had to be shot. Our elephant car, containing eight elephants, was partly smashed, but none of them were injured. Four people were injured, and were sent to the hospital at Bismarck. The loss to our show is estimated at $50,000. One twelve-horse team was killed, one of the most valuable with the show. Several other horses from our six and eight-horse teams were killed. No ring stock was injured, and consequently our performance was not interfered with. No animals, except the horses, were injured. Every one was badly shaken up, but not seriously injured. The train reached Bismarck Sunday evening, and a regular performance was given Monday.

Washburn News.

Success perches on the banner of Leon Washburn's Chreus, Menagerie, Museum and Carnival Alliance. The recent changes made in one or two departments have worked wonders, and everything is now moving with the smoothness and regularity of a well olied high-priced clock. Stock Superintendent Ulrich has already demonstrated that the right man is in the right place, while Charles Reed and his chlef assistant, Frank Wallace, certainly make things move around the menagerie and big top. Hugh Donahue joined Monday in Danielson to strengthen the concert. There were no turn-ways last week, but New London, Norwich, Jewett City and Moosup turned out better than good. Diovolo, who was injured when leaping-the-gap two weeks ago, writes that he will be able to return to work by July 4. Sunday was paint-up day, and stakes, centre poles, side poles and stages are bright and fresh in their dresses of red and blue. Mr. Washburn expects his new thirty-eight whistle calliope next week.

Miller Bros.' 101 Ranch Wild West Show did big business at St. Paul, Minn., June 16 and 17, at the grounds corner of University and Victoria Streets. A most distressing accident occurred 16, while the Cossacks were in the ring, when the horse which was carrying Sergi Djorhandze stumbled and fell on its rider, breaking his leg and that of the horse as well. The horse had to be shot, both of the bones of its leg having been broken. Pearl Benson, a cowgirl, also had her right arm fractured, her pinto becoming unmanageable as she was dismounting, owing to a loose saddle, and throwing her heavily to the ground, 17. She pluckily went through the rest of her act.

Our season will open Oct. 1 in New York State. We will carry special scenery for the entire production, by the Schell Scenic Studio, of Columbus, O."

JEANNETTE LE BLANC, who recently closed a pleasant and very successful season with the Aubrey Stock Co., is at her home for the Summer for a much needed rest.

Notes from the "Old Reliable" Trousdale Stock Co.—We are in our forty-first week this season, and we have not played to a losing date nor missed a salary day. Our regular season closes at Pipestone, Minn., July 4, when we go in Summer stock at Arnold's Park, Ia., for July and August, after which we have two months' fair dates through Iowa and Minnesota. Besides this we are booked up solid for next season, as is also company No. 2. The Trousdale Co. also controls the Trousdale circuit of theatres, the best time through Iowa, Minnesota, North and South Dakota. Boyd B. Trousdale is the manager of the No. 1 show, as he is of the circuit. Boyd is one of the youngest managers in the business—he was only twenty-one years old on his last birthday, and has proven a successful manager far above the average. Boyd, who is very popular both with his people and patrons, is playing the leads. The company includes; Royd B. Tronsdale, Tom Keeny, Cat Fronces, Jay Cogshall, Harry Kline, H. T. Madden, C. G. Allen, Maudersa De Vere, Jeannette Garnett, Soñe Lamsch, Louise Cox, and Everett Little, musical director. A banquet was tendered the company after the show Friday night, at the Manitou Hotel, by Jeannette Garnett and Sofie Lamsch, in honor of their birthdays. The banquet was arranged by Mr. Sambson, manager of the hotel, was gotten up in elegant style, and everybody enjoyed themselves immensely.

WATKYNS DOUGLAS, of Baltimore, was a caller at THE CLIPPER office last week. He has temporarily been conducting the Victor School of Acting, in Baltimore, but intends taking the Douglas Stock Co. again on the road next Fall, with Mariam West in the leads, supported by a metropolitan company. He states that he has a fine line of bills, special paper and scenery. Time is practically all booked in the South by the Empire Theatrical Exchange.

ALICE MARSHALL has been engaged by the Behman Show for next season.

NELLIE BERWITER has been engaged by Richard Carle for his new musical comedy, "The Boy and the Girl," which will be a special part written for her in "Mary's Lamb," until the other play is put on. Miss Brewster is a Western soprano.

MANAGER JOSEPH MENARD writes that the prospects are bright for rebuilding the operahouse at McCook, Neb., which burned down some time ago.

AFTERMATH. — Grace Wilson, a charming little woman, whose home is in Chicago, appeared at White City this week, in vaude-ville, and made a distinct hit. She has been seen in parts with the late Richard Mansfield, and has been with the Kicley-Shaimon Co., and with "The Show Girl." being with the latter attraction through the West last year. She has a very pleasing personality, and is a hard and conscientious worker.

Andy Adams writes from Sheridan, ind., that business with the Dawson Concert Co. is big, and that they are "turning them away." the stow being a big bill. — Roy Dee and Ethelyn Noble were calters 25, having just returned from a four weeks' trip which took them from here to Denver, where they started out with "A Man's Broken Fromise," and worked through to the coast with it, leaving them to go into vaudeville over the Sulivian-tonsidne time, where they made a big hit, although unknown out there. They were gone forty-six weeks, losing but six in all, through long jumps and the floods in the South. Both look remarkably well, and say they thoroughly enjoyed the season. They will be in the city for a few days, and then leave for Summer work. — Mr. Woods, of ane Four Woods (Pine, Maple, Spruce and Apak), was a caller 25. Their new act by Jack Burnett, entitled "The Country Cousin," was tried out at White City 20, and proved an enormous laurbling success, Mrs. Oak Wood, as Maria, the character part, and Pine Wood, as Zacharlab, being especially furny. OUR LONDON LETTER. FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.

JUNE 20, 1908.

I am told that the receipts of an important West End theatre totaled $150 the other night, and I believe that other houses for doing as badly. Vaudeville is not so scriously debilitated. Still, we would seem to be in for a glorious Summer, and our managers look as though they may pay dearly for their incorrigible labit of running their attractions as long as there is a lire playsgoer or a deadhead to be lured into the theatre. Acute observers of George Edwardes programmes will notice a habit he has, at this season of the year, of sending his high salaried stars on a vacation, employing understudies, to the intense chegrin of country visitors to lown, who are not loo well informed as to the absence of popular favorites.

But it must be admitted that the depression in theatrical business is not uniform. Here and there a theatre or a music hall is doing quite well, and some managers have chosen this juncture for productions of the first importance.

For instance, at the Lyric Theatre, on Saturday night, Lewis Waller installed William Somerset Mangham's play, "The Explorer," in succession to "The White Man." Mr. Mangham has four plays current at West End theatres now. This, I should say, is a record. If an author's name has previously appeared on four programmes at once, it has probably involved revivals. Mr. Mangham's plays current at West End theatres now. This, I should say, is a record. If an author's name has previously appeared on four programmes at once, it has probably involved revivals. Mr. Mangham's plays have all come with a rush. They are, of course, the work of years. Managers have only just discovered what a very clever young fellow was bombarding 'them with manuscript. Mr. Mangham professes no ill will. He says that if he were called upon to decide as to the acting possibilities of a manuscript play, he would certainly be at fault. He thinks it a difficult problem, and he has possessed his soul in patience.

Coquelin began a three weeks' season at His Majesty's Theatre on Monday. He will most frequently play "L'Affaire des Poisons," an erudite and elaborate study of life in the time of Louis Quatorze, by Sardou, which owes its interest mainly to the performance of Coquelin as an elderly abbe, who manages the most desperate affairs with a philosophical imperturbability, and for splendid services to the state, will finally accept no more than a modest post in a library.

Laurence Housman has done such good work in the past, notably, "Prunella," that the production of "A Chinese Lantern," at the Haymarket, on Tuesday afternoon, was awaited eagerly. It was a Vedrenne-Barker function, with the iden of "A Chinese Lantern" eventually replacing Shaw's play, "Getting Married," in the evening bill, Mr. Housman employs the superbatural in telling the love story of two servants in a Chinese household. One of them is temporarily absolved in a picture. It is tiresome and silly Lionel Brough has made up a little party with the son of his old friend, H. T. Craven. They will visit beach resorts. MADAME ALVANO AND COMPANY, prima

CHAS. L. CASTELLO, writing from Stanley, N. M., June 16, says: I recently returned from a tour of the towns of the Sandra and Manzano Mountain and Estancia Valley towns of New Mexico. The trip was not much of a financial success, but now we are all well, and I am in road form after a long lay-off from illness. The itinerary was overland, with all kinds of camping life, as mountain, plain, prairie and valley, afforded every enjoyment, though at times we were compelled to scoop up water on the prairie where rain fell for man and beast. We were lost many times; homesteaders' lines and fences incorporating the old traveled roads, and no houses visible or people to inquire your way for miles. Our programme was varied—vaudeville, ventriloquism, instrumental and vocal music. Late advices from Henderson, N. C., the home of Edith Castello, equestrienne, who received a broken limb the second day out on the road with Cole Bros.' Circus, which started from Youngstown, O., stated she was convalescing and able to walk again. It is her first season out. Notes.—What was formerly known as the Dowling Theatre, playing legitimate attractions, has been thoroughly remodeled and redecorated, and opened June 29 under the name of the New Broadway, with polite vaudeville as its policy. The alterations consist of changing the entrance from Third Street to Broadway, creating a spacious lobby and rest room, new twenty-four foot gluss canopy over the entrance, additional fire escapes, more seating capacity in the balcony, and many minor changes that contribute comfort and convenience to the patrons. The interior decorations are of dark olive and ivory, with a touch of gold, and present a handsome appearance. O. O. Randell, Chleago, has painted a new drop and asbestos curtain, also a handsome equipment of new scenery that is tasty and harmonious with the color decorations of the theatre. A COMEDY OF ERRORS.

AT THE FRENCH BALL

How the fates conspire when we plan to deceive. Everything seems to work in our favor until, at some awkward mishap, all the fruits of artifice and subterfuge wither. Mr. and Mrs. Williams, a young married couple, not entirely weaned of the freedom of single blessedness, are both, unknown to each other, obsessed with the irrepressible desire to attend the French Masquerade Ball. By a strange coincidence Williams attires himself in a Friar's garb, while Mrs. Williams appears as a Nun. At the ball they meet, and, owing to the cast of their characters, are, naturally, sympathetically attracted one by the other, and arrange to have a little supper after the ball is over. During the course of the evening they have each penetrated the other's disguise. Now here is a complex situation—each has recognized the other, but neither recognizes the fact—Do you get it? Well, Mrs. Williams hastens to the ladies' dressing-room, accompanied by her colored maid, whom she immediately invests with the Nun costume. Williams hustles Nelson to the men's room, changing costumes with him. The Friar and Nun meet again and the proposed supper is to be indulged in. In rush Mr. and Mrs. Williams from different entrances to witness the consternation of the masquerading couple, even unto their own amazement. The picture ends interrogatorily—"Who is the joke on?" LENGTH, - - 670 FEET.

CROSSROADS

RELEASED JULY 3. "Oh, God, turn back Thy universe and give me yesterday!" How often is this prayer breathed by the unfortunate victims of self-will. And yet there has been a place in their journey where the roads of life forked, and, had they chosen the right one, all would have been well. Such an occasion presents itself to the heroine of this story, and by stern resolve she selects the right road. She, the daughter of a staid New England minister, is brought up in absolute ignorance of the ways of the outside world, and when she gets the slightest inkling of its glamour, it makes a decided impression. Into her hands have fallen several theatrical newspapers, and she and her girl chum eagerly digest their contents, recounting in glowing terms what seems to be a golden existence. So wrought up were they that she immediately resolves to go on the stage, and so applies for a position in the chorus of a New York opera company. Her rise in the profession is rapid, and while her artistic success is most agreeable, still she finds that all is not gold that glitters. Hence it is that she joyfully welcomes the opportunity to return to the modest simple home of her dear old father. The story is a most touching one, well defined with many bits of comed to lighten it, together with a vivid portrayal of life behind the scenes.
